Are you shipping to Canada?

I will ship outside the US as long as you understand that it will literally be sent in an envelope with stamps for postage. The risk that it arrives is on you. See below. There is no additional cost for this shipping method.

Quote from: OgNasty on August 15, 2013, 09:01:46 PM

...if you are willing to take the risk, I have no problem putting a few of these in a regular envelope, slapping a couple stamps on it and dropping it in the mail for you. I however wouldn't be responsible if they never made it to you. If you are willing to take that risk, just place a small order (no more than 10 coins) and add in your signed message that you accept the risk of having these shipped internationally to you with no insurance or tracking.

My decision to host would depend on the terms of the deal.

What would you consider to be fair terms?

I spent some time this morning looking at the numbers for profitability on a BFL single over the next 12 months. It's not looking good. When I account for electricity, shipping cost, plus some maintenance hassle factor, fan hosting will become uneconomical to the NastyFans fan club in about 3 months. I've come to the conclusion that the only way this device can remain profitable beyond around April 2014 would be if the difficulty levels off. With terahash units shipping on the horizon, I do not see this happening. Perhaps mining an alt would prove useful (ppcoin?).

Personally, I think the best bet for the fan club would be to unload these units for 1.5BTC a piece, if you can find a buyer. Maybe you can find an ebay ~~sucker~~ apprentice who wants to cut their teeth in the crypto-currency mining space.

With that being said, if the fan club decides to take the risk of fan-hosting on some singles, I can offer to host a Single for 0.2BTC upfront for 6 months to cover electricity & maintenance. No guarantee of uptime. You cover shipping to Canada. You supply the pool details. After 6 months, we can reevaluate what to do with the units.

This is the best I can do; maybe someone else has a better deal for the fan club. I can easily see these units becoming entirely unprofitable by June.

We definitely wouldn't pay anything for hosting. It would have to be a revenue sharing deal where the host got a % of the mined coins. I also don't think we could get 1.5 BTC each for them. In fact, I don't think we could get 1 BTC for them if we were selling today. Ideally, I guess we'd be looking for folks with free electricity or living somewhere cold that could use the heat.

If anyone's looking to get rid of one of these fire hazards and doesn't want to deal with AM, I'm looking to buy an AM Prisma preferably through PP. Must be working and have some kind of controller.
$450 shipped to Canada.

Try sending a message to OgNasty, I know he is thinking of selling his. Good luck on not burning your place down with it!

I am considering selling mine. I've got it all working, I have 2 of the uart controllers and 1 of the big bulky controllers (I use the simple USB ones). Let me know. It shows no signs of catching fire and has been stable since I got it all working properly. 📷Smiley

Last questions, I promise: Is it very loud? I'd assume it isn't, considering how cool it runs. I just want to make sure.  Smiley

Also, where is it shipping from?

It is nearly silent. Shipping from AZ.

Ah, not bad. Does 0.6BTC shipped to Ottawa, Canada work for you? I can have the funds sent once I get home.

No. Shipping international is pretty expensive. You'd have to pay it.

The cooling system is included. I doubt it would be worth the shipping costs to Canada though.

Congrats. That's cheaper than I'm selling these for.

I am talking 20 S7 Antminers @ 24KWatts. Yeah gross would be around $6k per month which would leave a net of $1k per month after paying the $5k to the data center. My ROI would be 3 years. That is not a good!

There must be some error in the quote. Nobody charges that much. For example, it would cost about 1300 USD to host at my datacenters at 57 USD / kW. Other datacenters from Canada charge about this rate too.

I just went back to the quote:

16 kW at $340/kW for a monthly fee of $5,440 with a one time setup fee of $1,500.....The grand total monthly was $5,790 with a One Time Install Fee List Price of $2,500..... This is crazy!!!!

$340/kW? That is absurdly high. You should be looking for a host in the $60-$75/kW range.

Hi Og,

I do have a habbit of collecting some oz of gold on an annual base. May I ask how much premium over spot do these coins carry? Are you able to ship to Canada?

There is a $3,000 premium over spot (the deposit). This covers the 100 NastyFans seats attached to the coin, a $600 donation to NastyFans, and various minting, engraving, shipping, & address generation costs. Yes, I am able ship to Canada.

Lets at least be realistic Saudi Arabia can pretty much do what they want because the world hates Iran more, sells them arms and buys their oil!

This is probably the only part of any of your posts I've read that I actually agree with.

Continue this thread for as long as you want.

So long as I have your blessing...

Vod has a long history of abuse and trying to get others to do his dirty work for him at their own risk. From trying to get users arrested for destruction of property by encouraging throwing rocks through windows, to now presenting false information and encouraging it's reporting to authorities risking having users arrested for perjury. This one trick pony is as nutless and shameful as they come... How much longer will not only this behavior, but those supporting this behavior be allowed to continue abusing their DT status here?

Yes, he says he has a "no-deductible" policy on it.

He is lying. Anything that happens to that house will go unrepaired. Ir Joey keeps scamming eventually he will have to move out.

Stuff like this is moronic. If anyone were to commit arson or vandalism, they would be arrested. It wouldn't be hard for Joey to just point to this thread, and anyone who made a threat would be a suspect. That is if they don't catch you in the physical act, since people rarely get away with arson. Arson is far more serious than him scamming someone out of .4 BTC. Obviously Jenger isn't the only one who's made a threat, but they're all equally stupid.

Someone throws a rock through his window in the middle of the night and gets away, and they will be arrested? How? Wink

Let Joey point to this thread, showing all his scams and thefts. Let them suspect me - I live in Canada and there would be a record of my entry into the US.

I think every country have different tax rates on capital gains.

This is very true. While the US has some favorable capital gains tax rates, citizens in places like Canada, where 50% of the value of any capital gains are taxable, have to pay taxes on virtually every profitable Bitcoin sale no matter how small.

Looks like Vod doesn't want me to post his famous pedophile PM now? Seems he's even started ignoring me hoping that it won't be obvious to everyone that he desperately doesn't want that PM made public. He's gone as far as to preemptively cry about me posting it on other threads after pretending he wants me to post it here. Vod, just say you're ok with me posting the PM you sent me so mods won't delete it and I'll post it here like you asked.

I'm guessing he's moved on to ignoring me now since his genius reverse psychology attempt didn't work. Probably at the advice of his lawyer or if he doesn't have one, maybe the Canada Revenue Agency has scared some sense into him as a result of him projecting his misdeeds onto others.

Re: Russia Declares it is ready for war with American and European countries

by OgNasty on 02/02/2022, 06:18:07 UTC

As an American, it's easy for me to look at the Russia situation and blame them for trying to ignite a war. It does appear to be a bit of a double standard though. Russia has been fairly open about the military defense systems surrounding their country making them uncomfortable and their concerns being ignored. I don't blame them for being upset. Looking at a map it's pretty crazy the amount of weapons the US and UN control around Russia's borders. Maybe I'm ignorant, but I think if Russia and Canada/Mexico formed deals to have Russia keep military equipment and missile launch systems within a stone's throw of our borders, I would expect us to threaten action as well.

Not trying to defend Russia, but the situation does seem slightly hypocritical to me.

The unexpected FBI raid on Donald Trump's Florida residence on Monday signaled a rapid uptick in the number of inquiries against the former president, and it raised new legal issues that, in theory, may change the outcome of the presidential election in the United States.

That's because some have said that Mr. Trump could be constitutionally barred from seeking the presidency again if the investigation, which is apparently related to his handling of sensitive presidential records, results in a conviction.

So let's examine this more closely. How far have the investigations into Mr. Trump come along, according to the FBI search, and might he truly be dissuaded from running in 2024?

president, I would say the FBI is a couple of years away from being completely gutted. Sure, they're going to do everything they can to stop that. Which means more witch hunts and shady behavior. One thing I do know, the credibility of the FBI has to be at an all time low. As we move into a new future where funds are surveyed on blockchains and the digital world becomes more relevant, I think organizations like the FBI and the IRS will find themselves dinosaurs clutching to influence.
